From clothing to energy, for the emergency services sector

| Introduction

It's important for all those within the emergency services sector to remain consistent and efficient with making purchasing decisions.

The government encourages a collaborative approach to procurement, not just to save money but to standardise goods and services they purchase. Spending wisely will help to drive lasting improvements across the whole service.

| Helping you buy better

YPO is a not for profit buying organisation set up to help the public buy better.

We've got over 50 years of procurement experience under our belt and have a range of over 30,000 products which includes office supplies and furniture as well as over 100 frameworks to procure high values items like clothing and vehicles and service such as HR, training and insurance.

We would definitely recommend customers to use the Critical Incident Management and Public Safety Software and Systems DPS-1218, we found the DPS easy to use. With the reduced timescales it helped really speed up our procurement process and this was particularly important when delivering a large project within a tight timeline. The YPO team were extremely helpful and were on hand with any queries and assistance throughout the process. This compliant route will allow customers to access the solution they need, backed up by a very professional and knowledgeable team, I would not hesitate to recommend to any interested parties.

| Your trusted supplier

We're 100% publicly owned by 13 local authorities so all our profit goes back to the public purse. This means we can focus all our efforts into supporting you, by giving you access to great savings and expert advice.

Collaborating with a public sector buying organisation like us will help you deliver better value for money, standardise your purchase and improve your efficiencies.

| We can offer you...

- A dedicated account management team
- Free procurement advice
- Access to frameworks
- A wide range of products
- Free guidance and assistance with mini competition
- Access to emergency service forums
- A free quarterly emergency services newsletter
- Loyalty scheme rewards

Returning around £4million back into the heart of public service each year

| Your dedicated team

We're the only public sector buying organisation in the UK that has a dedicated emergency services team, who work with you to run mini-competitions around your requirements; with continued contract management throughout the process.

Andy and Laura work with all emergency services across the country, to help develop a robust range of great quality products and frameworks. Their roles focus on really understanding your needs and challenges, in this continually changing landscape.

They're here to support you and offer guidance and advice along the way, in order to help make your money go further.

| Our frameworks

As a public service, emergency services need to be legally compliant when buying goods and services over threshold.

Tender processes can be lengthy and time consuming but public sector buying organisations like us can help you set up or renew complex contracts. We'll create competition between pre-qualified suppliers, to generate best value for you – and our services are totally free for you to use.

Did you know?

As part of the UK Government food waste strategy the Government have pledged to introduce separate collections for household food waste in the UK by 2026. With a couple of years to go until the mandatory collections are implemented, pressure is being put on the UK's local authorities to get measures in place to meet the deadline.

Technology is everywhere so we know how important it is to have the most up-to-date and innovative equipment and systems. We can help you source cost-effective solutions with our range of frameworks covering hardware, software, multi-functional devices and more. Digitisation is the future and our current and future suite of compliant frameworks will help get you there, allowing for new innovations along the way.

This framework is very user friendly and YPO have been very helpful throughout the process providing professional help and guidance when required. Being able to undertake an Expression of Interest exercise in the first instance was very beneficial.
